CAJE NEHEMIAH ACTION TOMORROW

Monday, May 6, 6:30 p.m. – Old National Events Plaza

This year's CAJE Action will focus on two issues, the lack of affordable housing and a lack of care for dually diagnosed children – that is children on the autism spectrum who also suffer from a mental illness. CAJE will be asking the Mayor and City Council members for a sizable allocation in the Affordable Housing Trust Fund to help developers build more affordable units to meet the growing need. And, CAJE will ask local mental health providers to form a task force to find solutions to provide local care for dually diagnosed children. Currently, there are families who must send their dually diagnosed children to St. Louis to get the care they need.

Your presence is needed at the Action, tomorrow at 6:30 p.m. (registration starts at 6) at the Old National Events Plaza to impress upon our community officials that their help is needed to correct these issues.
